Cleverly says sorry for rape drug 'joke'

JAMES Cleverly apologised yesterday for a bad-taste joke about using date-rape drug Rohypnol on his own wife.

The Home Secretary sparked uproar when he made the remarks at a Downing Street reception, hours after his department launched a new clampdown on drink spiking.

He faced calls to quit for telling female guests that 'Rohypnol in her drink every night' was 'not really illegal if it's only a little bit'.

He also joked that the secret to a long marriage was ensuring your spouse was 'someone who is always mildly sedated so she can never realise there are better men'.

The Home Secretary said: "It was a joke that I made and of course you know, I regret it and I apologised immediately, and that apology is heartfelt."

Korean politician stabbed in neck

SOUTH Korea's opposition leader Lee Jae-myung has been stabbed in the neck during a visit to Busan.

Mr Lee, who narrowly lost the 2022 presidential election, sustained a half-inch laceration on the left side of his neck.

He was airlifted to hospital. Doctors say the wound is not life-threatening.

The 66-year-old man who attacked him said he had intended to kill Mr Lee. The motive for the attack is unclear.

Mr Lee was addressing reporters when the stabbing happened.

HAS RISHI FIDLED ASYLUM FIGURES?

THE Home Office says it has cleared its asylum backlog, but critics accuse the government of manipulating the figures.

Tens of thousands of migrants have been staying in government requisitioned hotels while they await an initial decision on their refugee status claim.

Just over a year ago, PM Rishi Sunak (left) pledged to process 92,000 "legacy" applications by the end of 2023 – the Home Office says he has now done that.

But Labour say the government is making false claims about hitting the target. According to a Home Office press release, "increased efficiency" has meant more than 112,000 asylum cases were processed by officials last year, exceeding the PM's commitment.

It says in one four-week period from November 20 to December 27 2023, there were 20,481 initial asylum decisions made – that's more than the number of asylum decisions made in the whole of 2021.

The prime minister said the department's efforts are "saving the taxpayer millions of pounds in expensive hotel costs, reducing strain on public services and ensuring the most vulnerable receive the right support".

But critics – including some Tory MPs – dispute these claims and suggest that Downing Street is massaging the statistics.

Legacy cases refer only to people in the asylum system on June 28 2022, the day when new asylum rules came into force.

All of those cases have been reviewed but not all have been resolved – 4,500 have been reclassified as "complex".

Boy arrested in hunt for teen's killer

DETECTIVES probing the fatal stabbing of a 16-year-old boy on New Year's Eve have appealed for photos and videos from the park where he was attacked.

Harry Pitman, from Haringey, was stabbed in Primrose Hill, north London, at about 11.40pm on Sunday.

A 16-year-old boy was arrested on suspicion of murder and held in custody.

Supt Danny Hewitt said: "We need to hear from anybody who saw anything that may be significant."

Harry's older sister Tayla, 19, paid tribute to him and said he "always stood up for what was right".

She said: "I'm devastated, he was my baby brother."

"I keep on expecting him to come through the front door. His dinner is still in the oven, mum can't bring herself to remove it."

Supt Hewitt said a "large group of people" gathered at the park to see in the new year when Harry was killed.

"Although there has been an arrest we need information from the community," he said.

New call to pay terrorists compo

BEREAVEMENT payments should be made to relatives of people killed during the Troubles, including those who were paramilitaries, it has been proposed.

The proposal is contained in an advice paper from the Commission for Victims and Survivors, which has been sent to the Executive Office at Stormont.

If acted upon, about 13,000 people could benefit.

No amount is suggested, but figures contained in the paper show the scheme could cost upwards of £130m.

That would cover one-off payments of £10,000, which would apply regardless of the circumstances in which a person was killed.

Miracle as 379 passengers cheat death in runway fireball

HOW DID THEY ALL GET OUT ALIVE?

A LARGE airliner carrying almost 400 passengers exploded yesterday at a Tokyo airport after hitting a coastguard plane as it came into land.

In what has been described as a miracle, all 379 passengers and crew were evacuated before the plane was engulfed in a fireball.

Shocking footage showed the Japan Airlines jet in a raging inferno as it sat on the runway at Haneda Airport, in Ota City, Tokyo, with plumes of flame pouring out of the windows.

One horrific clip showed the flames licking from the airliner's main cabin door as smouldering debris fell from the fuselage onto the tarmac,

By COLIN HURST
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

while another showed passengers sprinting along the runway to escape the blaze.

A Japan Airlines spokesperson said all 379 passengers aboard the aircraft – JAL flight 516 Airbus A-350 – at the time of the explosion were successfully evacuated from the stricken plane.

There has been no official confirmation of casualties but a successful evacuation of all passengers and crew would be a truly miraculous feat given the blaze completely gutted the plane and melted through huge chunks of its bodywork.

Images from the scene showed how the passenger escape slide protruding from one of the airliner's doors was set ablaze as more flames burned within the cabin.

Disaster
Meanwhile, a coastguard official confirmed a coastguard aircraft was involved in the incident.

All five people on the coastguard plane are reported to have been killed.

The Japanese Airlines flight had flown out of Shin Chitose airport in Japan and was landing at Haneda airport when the disaster occurred.

A coastguard official at Haneda Airport, one of the world's busiest, said their MA-722 aircraft appeared to have collided with the JAL flight on the runway.

More than 70 fire engines attended the scene.

NHS IN CRISIS AS USUAL

Boss issues 'worst year ever' warning again

THE NHS in England could be facing one of its most difficult starts to the year since it was founded in 1948, one of its most senior executives has said.

Medical director Sir Stephen Powis warned that a six-day strike planned by junior doctors from today will have a significant impact on routine care. Hospitals are also having to deal with rising rates of flu, COVID and other winter infections.

If it goes ahead as planned, the latest strike will see the longest stretch of industrial action in the history of the NHS.

Junior doctors make up around half of all doctors working in hospitals. British Medical Association members will walk out for 144 hours in a row from 7am on January 9 until 7am on January 9 across all of England.

"Six consecutive days of industrial action comes at one of our busiest periods," said

Sir Stephen. "The action will not only have an enormous impact on planned care, but comes on top of a host of seasonal pressures and staff absences due to sickness – all of which is impacting on how patients flow through hospitals."

THE rain has finally stopped for most of the country apart from the odd shower in coastal areas. It will be cloudy where it isn't raining with some sunny spells in the south. Temperatures of 10C in London, 9C in Cardiff, 8C in Belfast and Manchester and 7C in Edinburgh. More of the same

RITA Ora looked incredible when she shared a gallery of images of herself wearing a racy red mini dress which had cut-out details at the cleavage.

She went braless under the number, showing off her famous boobs, teaming it with red tights and matching flat Mary Jane shoes.

Rita, 33, tied her hair up in a festive red bow as she posed at a home by the sea while on holiday in New Zealand.

She completed her look with sunglasses as she showed off her many tattoos.

She wrote to her fans: "Merry Xmas! Love and happiness to you all! Here's to 2024!"

But when those fans replied, some had clearly overdone the Christmas spirit.

Throbbing

Because the replies were BLUE!

One fan slavered: "You just know ATM, watersports, rim, bondage. I love her."

For the innocent, ATM stands for Ass-to-Mouth, suggesting a lady who is prepared to suck her partner's throbbing penis after it has penetrated her bumhole.

So called "rimming" is another anal sex act, when one partner licks the other's nipsy.

And 'watersports' is a sex act involving urine.

A pal of the star said: "There are explicit and revolting suggestions. I wonder what goes through people's minds to write these horrors on a public forum."

Rita has swapped the British winter for much sunnier climes.

And she's been keeping fans abreast of her trip, slipping into a bikini as she flaunted her gym-honed figure in a scanty two-piece, while posing at the edge of a swimming pool.

In an update, she wrote: "Nobody is very helpful @easyJet this is awful."

The 61-year-old sent another update saying she had not been allowed to fly.

She wrote: "I wasn't allowed to fly, went to embassy, was closed applied for an emergency document online so let's see what happens. Supposed to be filming EastEnders."

Celeb Big Bruv back with bang

ITV bosses have reportedly secured a sensational line-up of stars for the reboot of Celebrity Big Brother.

The channel has spent a massive £2million on a number of high-profile names for the show after the civilian version proved to be a huge hit.

Celebrities who are said to be in talks to take part are Rebekah Vardy and Sarah Ferguson, as well as former X Factor judge Louis Walsh.

A TV insider said: "The team are being clever about the celebs they're considering. They don't just want big names – they want stars who will bring something intriguing."

"These characters have delivered some of the most outstanding moments of Celebrity Big Brother in the past and they'll want to produce those again."

It was confirmed in November that Celebrity Big Brother would be returning in March 2024 following the success of the ITV2 reboot of Big Brother last year.

MILLIONS of people are learning WELSH, according to a top online language school.

Welsh grew 38% in 2023 over 2022, when it rose by 26%, according to language learning app Duolingo.

Total learners of Welsh surpassed three million users on the app – a boost to the Cymraeg 2050 campaign by the Welsh government, which aims to have a million Welsh speakers.

Manon Cadwaladr, Chair of Cymdeithas Cyfieithwyr Cymru, said: "As the national body which promotes Welsh, we couldn't be more delighted to see so many learners improving their Welsh on Duolingo."

"Welsh needs more speakers as we aim for the target of one million by 2050 and Duolingo is a great place to practise and learn."

Soppy millennials lead revival in kinky partner swapping

SWINGING'S BACK, BABY, YEAH!

GENERATION Z are into WIFE (and husband) SWAPPING, a shock poll has revealed.

A study of 17,000 folk from all age ranges found that young Brits aged 18-26 so-called Gen Zers – were most up for a bit of swinging.

They said that 'swinging and non-monogamy' led to a fuller life.

Some 51% of Gen Z-ers said one person alone couldn't satisfy their 'sexual desires'.

A report by Ashley Madison – called Decoding Gen Z: A Global Report on Non-Monogamy, Sex and the Desire for Discretion – also found that many young Brits expect to live until 100 years or more.

As a result, six-in-ten said they didn't want to spend all their lives with one partner.

Gen Z-er Damon Richards, 23, of Watford, said he couldn't bare the thought of being with one person for ever.

He said: "The together forever nonsense of earlier generations – like my mum and dad – are gone."

Sharing

"These days it's not uncommon to have a few partners."

He said: "It's not the same as wife or husband swapping really, because not many people our age are usually married, it's just sharing partners really."

A spokesman for Ashley Madison said: "Many Gen Z-ers might be expected to

ALL AT IT:
Younger adults like sharing partners live to over 100 years of age. It is clear that underlying all their behaviour is an awareness that it is becoming unrealistic to expect one person to fulfil all their sexual or emotional needs."

Psychotherapist Lucy Beresford said: "Having had the internet as a backdrop for the whole of their lives, Gen Z-ers are comfortable exploring sexuality online."

This means they are open to fresh ideas and experimentation, such as non-monogamy, and they are also relaxed about talking about sex."

Andrew to avoid new sex claims

PRINCE Andrew has avoided another sex assault trial after a woman who accused him of wrongdoing missed a deadline to file her claim.

Johanna Sjoberg, who has accused the Duke of York and megalomaniac Jeffrey Epstein of sexually abusing her, had until a month ago to file a case against the royal.

It had sparked fears the King's brother could face another lawsuit similar to that launched by another of Epstein's victim, Virginia Roberts Guiffre, which ended with her receiving a reported £12million out-of-court settlement.

However, this will not come to pass after Ms Sjoberg did not file a motion in time in the US, with sources close to the Duke saying he is 'mighty relieved' and wants to rebuild his image.

He has been seen accompanying the Royal Family, including his ex-wife Sarah Ferguson, at events such as Christmas Day Mass.

Britain slow on fast charging

A TARGET for the number of high-powered electric vehicle charge points near motorways has been missed, says the RAC.

The government wanted every motorway service station in England to have at least six rapid or ultra-rapid chargers by the end of 2023.

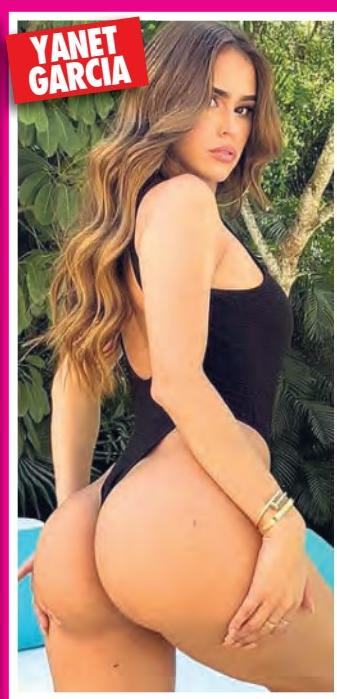

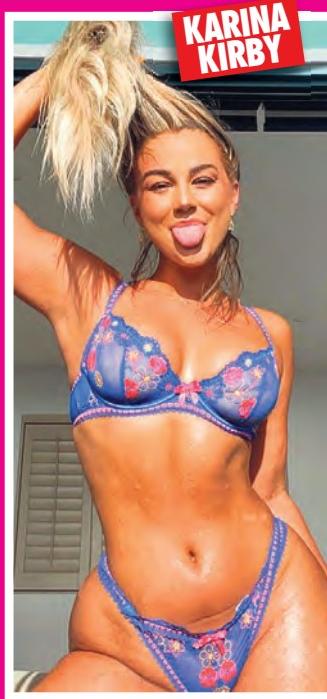

Data from the motoring organisation suggests that only four in 10 now meet this.

The Transport Department said charging facilities are available at most sites.

Rapid devices are seen as important for making longer journeys, to ensure people are confident they will have sufficient charge for the trip.

In December, the RAC found that 178 additional faster chargers had been installed since April.

However, only 46 of 119 sites now had six of these high-powered charging facilities in place.

DEATH-THREAT NYMPHO GIRL DEMANDED A THREESOME

By NELSON SAUVIN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A NYMPHO demanded threesome sex with her ex and his new girlfriend – and threatened to kill them both unless they agreed!

Cynthia Ann Ray, 38, was arrested and charged with aggravated stalking and sending written threats to kill after the incident that unfolded on Christmas Day, cops said.

Cops raced to an address in Groveland, Florida, after receiving a complaint of criminal mischief.

When they arrived, they spoke with the victim, Ray's ex-boyfriend, who said he's been having issues with Ray.

He recalled a previous altercation where Ray punctured the tyres on his new girlfriend's pickup truck.

She then returned to his house and punctured the same tyres again after they had just been replaced.

Ray's ex-boyfriend also showed cops text messages she sent him.

Sexual

"He then pulled out his phone and showed the messages to which he had not replied, however there were numerous messages in a short period of time," a police spokesman said.

"He said he's been receiving text messages in 'great quantities' since he broke up with Ray at the beginning of November. She's also allegedly shown up to his house several times.

"Ray did send a message to the victim saying she wanted to have sexual intercourse with him and his girlfriend and if not, she was going to kill them."

Ray's ex messaged her back asking her not to contact him again, but Ray allegedly said 'she did not care and was going to continue', said police – adding that the victim said he was threatened by the messages and wanted "this to stop so he could move on".

Officers caught up with Ray, who said she hadn't left home after celebrating Christmas with her family.

Deputies, however, found that her car engine was 'still considerably hot' and there was a knife inside.

Ray was placed under arrest and transported to the Lake County Jail, where she remains.

More Brits going nude

BRITS are getting NUDER – and that's OFFICIAL!

Bare-arsed campaign group British Naturism say nudity is increasingly acceptable as society has become more liberal.

Andrew Welch, at British Naturism, said: "It has an appeal for those who want to get back to nature. Throwing off your clothes, getting naked and jumping into a river is very natural. When I spoke to people about naturism 20 years ago there would be a lot of barriers.

"People love to escape from daily life. It allows them to escape their nine to five job. As well as being more accepting, a healthy proportion of people say we would like to have a go as well."

More than six million Brits now describe themselves as naturists or nudists – up from 3.7m in 2011, a poll found.

DID you know that the modern drinking straw was invented way back on January 3, 1888?

That is why today is – and I'm not making this up – National Drinking Straw Day.

Yank Marvin C. Stone patented the drinking straw, which was 8.5ins long and made of paper.

He came upon the idea while drinking a mint julep on a hot day – the taste of his rye grass straw was mixing with the drink and giving it an unpleasant grassy taste.

So he set to work winding paper around a pencil to make a thin tube, which was then carefully glued.

Anyway, here are some babes sucking at straws.

MILFs are getting kinkier – according to one of Princess Kate's best mates.

A new generation of sexually adventurous middle-aged women are exploring kink and fantasies without shame, according to Killing Kittens sex club boss Emma Sayle.

Emma, a former schoolpal of the Princess of Wales, founded Killing Kittens which organises extravagant sex parties for consenting, vetted adults. She said there was a growing appetite for sexual adventure in the UK, but especially among women wanting to concentrate on themselves for a change.

"We find a lot of women are leaving marriages, or their husbands have left, and suddenly they're in their late 30s, early 40s, even 50s, going: 'Hang on, it's time for me to be selfish,' she said.

"There's a realisation that you're not on the shelf when you're 40 or 50 – you can still have a sex life, still go out and experiment and explore and date or try new things sexually."

A MAN caught furiously masturbating in a petrol station toilet blamed "severe constipation" for his dirty meltdown.

Security footage revealed 44-year-old Lorenzo Junior Tolbert "sitting down on the toilet, his pants around his ankles, and making repeated movements with his arms while he stared at individuals," said cops.

When a cop knocked on the lavvy, Tolbert opened the door, and the officer could see a white substance on his right hand and a large wet spot on his jeans near his groin.

Tolbert, of Rome, Georgia, said he was having a mental breakdown due to severe constipation as he was arrested and handcuffed.

A search of the suspect yielded multiple packages of Vaseline that Tolbert said "were for his lips."

He is charged with public indecency and probation violation.

Adriana Rullan

A TEACHER has been sacked after shagging a pupil a dozen times and getting love bites on her BOOBS during their romps.

Adriana Mariel Rullan, 27, stands accused of sexual abuse of a child, improper relationship between educator and student, and indecency with a child – sexual contact.

The defendant previously taught and coached at Antonio Gonzalez Middle School in Laredo, a large border city just north of the Rio Grande in Texas.

She is no longer employed as an educator.

According to an affidavit, the parents of a boy became suspicious after he spent £100 at a local Academy sporting goods store.

Quizzed

And when initially quizzed by his mother and stepfather, the boy said he received the money from "good friends".

The parents then found the money had come from Rullan, the lad's teacher.

Police were called in and found that Rullan sent the boy pictures of herself in a bikini and other images revealing love bites on her tits.

"Somewhat, I know I did wrong," she said at one point during her police interview, when asked about the alleged sex, according to the affidavit.

"I've always been the type to put their needs in front of mine, and I just feel like this just got carried away."

Text messages showed the teacher and the student engaged in "sexual intercourse or had sexual contact" during school on at least 12 occasions from August to November.

The defendant was arrested in December.

She posted her $175,000 bail and was released later that same day.

And on the same day Rullan was arrested, the school district sacked her.

"Many people think that the average penis size is a lot longer and larger than it actually is."

Caudle then shared some manhood measurements, stating: "The average size of a flaccid penis is 3.6 inches, and the average size of an erect penis is 5.17 inches. Did you know that? It's actually shorter than I think a lot of people would imagine."

Iggy, 33, has said in a statement that she's "thrilled" to be performing at the awards.

Last year Iggy moved away from just making music and signed up for OnlyFans – a highly successful move for the single mum.

Iggy said the move had been lucrative and she was making "so much money" although she wouldn't reveal exactly how much.

ambulance

A PATIENT at a hospital was feeling well enough to steal an ambulance from the car park and lead police on a chase.

When the alarm was raised, a cop who was near the hospital got behind the ambulance and tried to pull it over, but was unsuccessful.

The driver, identified later as 34-year-old Collier Bruce Simmons, of Enoree, fled and drove erratically on Highway 49 towards Lauren County in South Carolina.

Police continued their pursuit and the chase ended about 25 miles away from the hospital.

Simmons was taken into custody without incident.

He is charged with grand larceny, failure to stop for blue lights, driving under suspension (DUI related), and reckless driving.

It's not clear why he had been admitted to the hospital.

WE never saw that coming...

Prince Andrew's ex, Sarah Ferguson, has reportedly been granted a royal funeral and a burial spot alongside members of royalty at Frogmore, near Windsor Castle.

It came as the Duchess of York returned to Sandringham for the Royal Family's Christmas celebrations for the first time in 32 years.

The Queen is said to have permitted a St George's Chapel Windsor funeral for the duchess followed by interment at the royal burial ground at Frogmore – adjacent to the mausoleum built as the final resting place for Queen Victoria and Prince Albert.

Spotlight

Frogmore is a mile from the royal vault at St George's Chapel, where Prince Philip – who had a tumultuous relationship with the Duchess – rests.

The return of Fergie to the Royal fold has thrust redheads into the spotlight once more.

So here are a few more gingers to go nuts over – with their boobs out.

FMY favourite sexual fantasy at the moment is thinking about my fella shagging another girl.

I'm not quite sure why! I'm certainly capable of becoming jealous. But if I gave my express permission and got to watch I think it would be very, very horny.

I make myself cum by thinking of us having a threesome with a hot woman.

She'd have big boobs and a peachy bum – a bit like myself really! Us two girls would get it on first while my bloke watched... he'd get really hard seeing us snogging, caressing each other's curves and licking each other's nipples.

We'd both give him head... I know he'd be so turned on by two girls sucking on his cock at the same time!

I'd love to see him penetrate her and then stick his dick in my mouth for a good suck so I can taste everything!

Then he'd take turns penetrating us both... us girls could be stacked on top of one another. I need to make this happen and soon!

GORGEOUS Ella McPartland is feeling smug while the rest of us are still suffering post-New Year hangovers. The 32D Liverpool lovely said: "I had a totally sober New Year and it was just as much fun as being bladdered. "I was around at a pal's house and we danced until midnight. "Then we all snogged – I even snogged another girl!"

THE

predicted
this back
in 1992

THE one thing that all of us have done over the last week or so is watch telly.

And it wasn't great, was it? Not so long ago, Chrimbo TV would mean at least one cinema blockbuster bursting onto our screens on the big day itself.

It was normally around teatime, after Uncle Knobhead had finally woken from his post Christmas dinner feast but a few hours before it was time for his cab.

Depending on the year, or the decade, it would involve an impossibly real Tyrannosaurus Rex stomping across a telly half the size of our living rooms.

Or mystical blue people with really long legs and eyes like giraffes living on floating mountains.

And that was just on what most of us still call "normal" telly.

When the new kids on the block arrived – a certain three-lettered satellite behemoth springs to mind – we were told all of this could only get better.

Nightmare

Why have five channels when you can have hundreds of the f***king things?

We soon found out why.

Wall to wall shite, none of which you can get rid of because you want – need – to keep the footy and movie channels.

But even there, they can't get it right.

Going for a piss during a match became and remains a nightmare simply because of the so-called choices on offer.

If I dare to unleash my frantically tugging bladder hounds at half time, I know I do so with full knowledge she is then briefly in charge of the remote control.

Which means, one very quick piss later, and probably not completed to my entire comfort, I can find myself racing back into the living room to find her watching Game of Thrones.

Again.

Which she pretends was on in any case.

I snatch the control back and, with a withering stare, ask where the match has gone.

No idea, she says, because by then she has realised I didn't die mid-week and that, yes, for two whole hours, I finally get to watch what I want to watch because I pay for everything we f***ing watch in the first place.

Bruce Springsteen only got it half-right when, in 1992, he wrote a song about the multichannel TV phenomenon.

It was called 57 Channels (And Nothin' On) – and ain't that right?

If you dare to stray onto any of the channels these days, and find yourself trapped in an ad break, there is no escape.

You can press up, down, left, right, but it doesn't matter.

All the channels have their ads on at the same time so by hook or by crook, you WILL watch an advert for a holiday you can't afford in a place you can't pronounce.

Or be reminded of how cheap it is to get a cut price, non-attendance, no-wake cremation these days.

Eight quid to get chopped up and incinerated in a builder's bucket by a travelling person, who will personally deliver your charred remains in a used cat food tin to anyone who might possibly still give a shit.

Or it's like looking at the Daily Mirror's website, where instead of, say, "stories", there are more pop ups, surveys and ratings requests than your average Birkenhead brothel.

Where was the new Mission Impossible? Oppenheimer? Barbie??

Oh yes. They were available "to rent".

C***ts, aren't they?

Cig at wheel
blows up car
full of fireworks

A CAR full of fireworks EXPLODED after the driver smoked a cig and tossed it out the window – only for the wind to blow it back inside.

The 21-year-old man named only as Gerben, from the Dutch town of Nieuwleusen, bought 75kg of fireworks in Germany on Friday for New Year's Eve.

He was only a few miles away from his house when he smoked a cigarette and tried to throw it out the window.

But the wind blew it right back in, causing a fire inside his black Volvo V70.

'We saw red flashes and heard a bang. It went dark inside the car because of all the smoke,' Gerben said.

Footage shows black smoke billowing into the sky while colourful flares are shooting out in all directions.

While his friend got out of the inferno unscathed, Gerben sustained burns on his leg and had to get treated in hospital.

Despite attempts by the fire brigade to save the car, it ended up burning out completely.

Gerben said he has learned his lesson and will no longer smoke with fireworks in his car, admitting it 'wasn't very helpful'.

Vicar's fast food fury

A VICAR was arrested after he tried to force a man's head into a DEEP FAT FRYER.

Pastor Dwayne Waden was called to his local McDonald's branch by his wife – training to be a manager there – who said that a colleague has "disrespected" her.

Waden walked into the McDonald's in High Point, North Carolina, then around the counter before placing his hands around the victim's neck.

Waden then allegedly pushed the victim's head toward one of the deep fryers, police said.

Waden also punched the victim several times in the face and did not stop until multiple employees were able to pull the enraged vicar off of the victim.

Waden was nickel for assault and battery.

UNI BOSS MADE COOKING VID WITH BUM SEX QUEEN LAUREN

LEGEND:
Lauren in action

A TOP university boss has been fired over his secret life – making PORN MOVIES with his wife.

Dr. Joe Gow and wife Carmen Wilson promote their OnlyFans side hustle – with "fully explicit scenes" – on their Twitter account @SexyHappyCouple.

Now Dr Gow has been given the boot from his post as a university chancellor.

Dr Gow and Carmen have written two books about their hobby under pseudonyms and also have a YouTube channel on which they cook vegan meals with well-known sex performers.

In one recent video, the couple make a vegan pizza with bum sex porn queen Lauren Phillips.

Redhead Lauren can famously take THREE hard cocks in her bumhole and loves being showered with SPUNK.

The president of the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse called Gow's action's abhorrent, and another top official said she was "alarmed and disgusted" by his behaviour.

But Dr Gow, who was near

By ABBEY HAY

news@sundaysport.co.uk

the end of his tenure as chancellor when he was fired, said he didn't understand all the pearl-clutching.

He claimed his extracurricular activities are protected by the US Constitution's First Amendment and he spent no university resources or work time on the sex videos, which did not reference his day job.

It's not clear how top education officials learned about Dr Gow's outside activities but they wasted no time moving to fire him.

Abhorrent

"Upon my recommendation, the Board of Regents today terminated Dr. Joe Gow from his position as chancellor effective immediately." Universities of Wisconsin President Jay Rothman said in a statement.

"In recent days, we learned of specific conduct by Dr. Gow that subjected the university to significant reputational harm. His actions were abhorrent."

University Regent President Karen Walsh said that Gow "has shown a reckless disregard

CLEAN: Dr Gow and wife in their official university pictures for the role he was entrusted with to serve students, faculty and staff."

"We are alarmed and disgusted by his actions which were wholly and undeniably inconsistent with his role as chancellor."

Dr Gow, who headed the La Crosse campus since 2007, got into trouble in 2018, when he was denied a pay raise after inviting adult actress Nina Hartley to speak on campus.

Gow, 63, and Wilson wrote in one of their books: "We think our sex is beautiful and have no qualms at all about other people watching us make love. But establishment colleagues likely would be shocked to watch us complete the full carnal process – particularly with professional porn stars."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Lexi,

I RECENTLY boned my fit secretary, a really tasty blonde in her early 20s.

I'm 44 but I'd wanted to shag her virtually since the day she joined our company in the city.

To be honest, I never thought she'd go for me but at the end of a really hectic week I offered to take her out for a meal by way of a bonus.

We both drank a little too much and I booked us in to a hotel where, as soon as we got in the room, she peeled off her kit, revealing stockings and suspenders!

I nearly spunked on the spot but managed to contain myself, even when she gave me the best blowjob I'd had in years.

The problem is that she's now demanding a pay rise and has also threatened to tell the big boss about our affair. What should I do?

FJ, south London

Lexi says...

YOU'LL have to cough up for your fun!

Dear Lexi,

THE prick I'm living next door to hammers away at DIY jobs in his shed at half six in the morning, but that's not the worst of it.

He's had the cheek to knock on my door and tell my missus to keep the noise down while we're shagging, as it's annoying his f***ing budgies!

I finally went round to give him a piece of my mind, but his unexpectedly fit wife answered the door and said he was painting the walls in the bedroom.

She was very apologetic and invited me in for a cuppa. Then she told me her hubby was a total bore and she got off on the noise my missus made in bed and could I do it for her?

So I forked her good and proper on the kitchen table, but I had to keep my hand over her mouth.

Ex-hubby 'helping out' with amazing bonking sessions

Dear Lexi,

I'M 36 and I've been married to my second husband for four years.

He is sweet and very generous and he gets on well with my two children.

But unfortunately he's a dead loss in the sack and I am left frustrated after intercourse.

Recently I bumped into my ex-husband in town and I realised the sexual chemistry we had was still there.

I told him about my sexual frustrations and he offered to 'help out'.

He is an amazing performer in bed and never failed to make me orgasm.

So now we get together on Saturday afternoons while my husband takes the kids to the park and I always feel satisfied.

Last week my hubby went off with the kids in the car and within 30 minutes my ex was knocking at the door.

We stripped and he brought me off with his tongue before I sucked him off.

Next I got on all fours and he thrust into me from behind until I had a shuddering orgasm.

Just a routine session with this horny man!

But now I'm feeling guilty. What should I do?

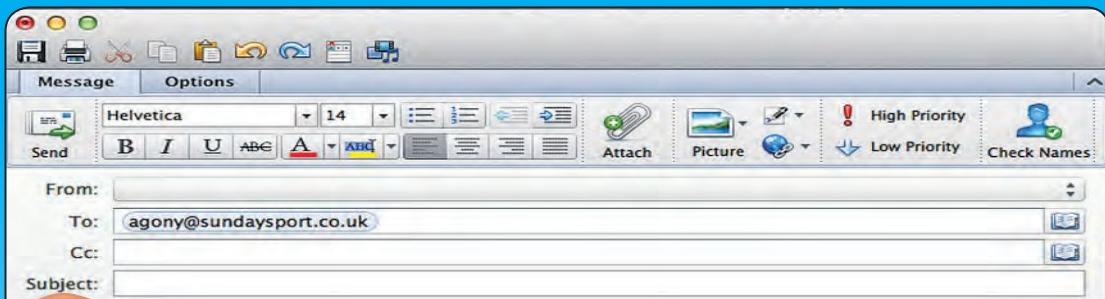

JM, Lancs

I don't want to give up special sex tapes

Dear Lexi,

MY partner and I split up recently after being together for three years.

We had a really adventurous sex life and tried out all sorts of sex positions and adult toys.

And the icing on the cake was that we made some explicit homemade sex tapes together.

One time we set up the HD cam at the bottom of the bed and I stripped her underwear off.

I started licking her pussy and sucking at her clitoris.

I was also sucking at her rock-hard nipples until she was screaming at me to f**k her.

But first I made her climax with my tongue before she got onto her hands and knees and gave me a hard, fast blowjob.

She traced her tongue around my helmet and gave me a deep throat gobble. It was fantastic.

I didn't want to spurt my load too soon, so I entered her and she swung her legs over my shoulders.

Several thrusts later we both came and screamed the place down, it was so good. After a few glasses of wine, we were ready to go again.

I thrust my knob right up her and she bobbed up and down on me as I tweaked her erect nips.

I came in her and my whole body shook, then she demanded I gave it to her doggy-style until she came.

Our session lasted more than an hour and we had it all recorded.

But later that month, we had a huge row and she walked out on me and moved all her stuff out.

Now she wants me to destroy the sex tapes, but it turns me on to watch them and they are all I have to wank over.

Do you think I need to pass them on to her, or should I keep hold of them?

PT, west Midlands

Lexi says...

KEEP them... but keep them private!

Dear Lexi,

I PULLED up at some traffic lights and a pretty woman of about 20 came along and started cleaning my windscreen.

As I had no change I asked if she wanted to have a bite to eat. She smiled and got in – she didn't speak English – so I took her for a slap-up feed at a cafe.

Afterwards, I was taking her back and she said "STOP!" so I pulled over.

Then she smiled and, before I knew it, she was sucking me off.

I've taken her for lunch a few times since, with the same result, but she doesn't say much.

What should I do?

PT, London

Lexi says...

ACTIONS speak louder than words.

Dear Lexi,

MY boss's wife threw a Christmas party for her hubby and I was invited.

She is a 46-year-old blonde babe with a great figure for her age.

Every time we've met, she has always been pretty flirty with me and I'd guessed she was in need of a bit of action, as my boss works all hours and doesn't really love her or show her much affection.

I've just split from my girlfriend and I'm enjoying being single again, so I had no qualms heading off to the party looking for some spare fanny, or even having a dabble with the hostess, if she was up for it.

As the night went on I got chatting to her in the kitchen and she soon made it clear that she was well up for a f**k in private somewhere.

She passed me a note telling me to meet her in the summer house at the bottom of their huge garden.

When I sneaked off and got there she was already inside, with no knickers on, legs spread, rubbing one out.

The problem was, she had one of her female mates with her and the pair were both up for it.

I did my bit and rogered them both. Now she wants regular threesomes.

What should I do?

GM, Essex

I watched young stud pound into my missus

Dear Lexi,

MY wife is 40 and a good-looker who holds down a well-paid job.

Last week she set off for a crucial meeting – at least that's what she claimed – and I was left to take the car in for a service.

I decided to reschedule my day to work at home for a change and a couple of hours later I heard a car pull up in the drive and thought it was the garage returning my vehicle.

But I looked out to see the wife pull up in her car with a hunky guy of about 19.

Next I heard footsteps on the stairs. Obviously the missus thought I was at work and soon there was the sound of giggling coming from the bedroom.

Guzzling

I padded quietly along the corridor to try to get a look at what was going on, but I wasn't prepared for the shock that was coming.

In the mirror of our bedroom door I could see my wife kneeling naked on the bed and guzzling the lad's 10-inchers.

I gazed astounded as the cheeky stud then turned her around and f**ked her doggy-style.

I retreated to my study in a state of shock and wanked myself daft over some porn on the internet, wishing I'd beaten her young lover senseless.

I still don't know what to do about her treachery. Should I chuck her out or turn a blind eye?

GORGEOUS Annabelle Lee might look sweet and innocent – but she's a DEVIL in the bedroom.

Annabelle from Chelmsford, Essex, squeezed her curves into a kinky pair of lacy knickers and flaunted her intricate cross tattoo.

Reclining back on a grey sofa, the 30D cam girl gave a tantalising glimpse of just what she's got to offer on her X-rated webcam.

She said: "I love teasing my fans with plenty of kinky content and naughty antics."

"I get loads of kinky requests, some of which I'll happily do but others? I say 'You what? Is that even possible?'!"

FORGET f-f-freezing January Britain – Louise Cliffe is somewhere much warmer.

The beauty said: "I've bagged a modelling assignment in Barbados – and there was no way I was turning down this gig!"

Louise is not just a globe-trotting glamour model – she's also an accomplished actress.

The 27-year-old scream queen has appeared in a host of horror movies, including Wrong Turn 3: Left For Dead and Annihilation Earth.

But obviously there's nothing horrific about 32D Manchester babe Louise, who once appeared on Big Brother as a contestant.

She said: "I love modelling, but I also love being in movies. Horror is my favourite genre and I'd love to get some more roles."

APPEAL: David Warner

Warner's
Baggy
Green
nicked

CRICKET

DAVID Warner has pleaded for the return of his baggy green Australian cricket cap after it went missing from his bag on the eve of his final Test match.

In a video on Insta, the veteran batsman said the cap was taken from his backpack during transit to Sydney ahead of Australia's third Test against Pakistan.

"This is my last resort to do this," Warner said.

"A couple of days ago, our bags got freighted via Qantas. We've gone through CCTV footage, they've got some blind spots apparently, we spoke to the Quay West Hotel who we trust and have gone through their cameras, no one's come into our rooms.

"But unfortunately, someone has taken my backpack out of my actual luggage, which had my backpack and my girls' presents in there, inside this backpack was my baggy green."

"It's sentimental to me, it's something I would love to have back in my hands walking out there come this week. If it is the backpack you really wanted, I have a spare one here, you won't get into trouble."

"Please reach out to Cricket Australia or myself via my social media and I'm happy to give this to you if you return my baggy greens."

The Sydney Test, which starts on Wednesday, marks the 37-year-old's final red ball appearance for his country after more than a decade as Australia's opener.

Warner announced he was also retiring from one-day cricket, but would still be available for the T20 format.

He said Australia's upset victory over India in the World Cup final in November was his last 50-over match on the international stage.

He told reporters: "That was something that I had said through the World Cup, get through that, and winning it in India, I think that's a massive achievement."

"So I'll make that decision, to retire from those forms, which does allow me to go and play other leagues around the world."

Bray bows out after refereeing
28th final at Alexandra Palace

REFEREE Russ Bray is proud of his tag as the 'voice of darts' as he gets ready to call his last World Championship final on Wednesday.

The 66-year-old has become one of the most imitated people in sport due to the trademark way he bellows '180' every time a player hits a maximum in his gruff and booming voice, while his 'game on' to mark the start of play is also instantly recognisable.

He will take charge of his 28th and last final tonight before taking up a role as an ambassador for the Professional Darts Corporation.

Bray, who became a referee in 1996, has been a central figure in the sport as it has catapulted into the mainstream over the last 15 years.

He cannot walk down the street

By PAUL THOMAS

without someone shouting one of his catchphrases at him, but embraces the attention.

"It is a lovely feeling that people put a tag on you like the 'voice of darts,'" he said.

"I have been very, very lucky because my voice has been so different so it makes it obvious."

"People walk down the street and shout 'game on' or '180' and it's lovely."

"It's good, for someone to do that means they are recognising what you do and I take it as a compliment."

"My call's part of the game. Every referee says game on and every referee says 180. It's just that mine has been recognised by everyone."

"You try to make a game as exciting as you can. My calls are all natural, nobody told me to do it like that, I just wanted to be different. It is a spectacle and to be part of that is very important."

Bray has been standing beside the oche for many of the most memorable moments over the last 25 years and he has seen the sport change from a pub game watched by enthusiasts into a global phenomenon.

He refereed the famous World Championship final between Phil Taylor and Raymond van Barneveld in 2007 and lists it as his personal highlight.

Special

"The Barney-Taylor final at the Circus Tavern, it was the last one there," he remembers.

"It went to a sudden-death leg and Raymond hitting the bull, then Phil hits a 180 and Raymond follows with a 180 and takes out tops. That was very, very special."

"When I started you had one winner and that was Phil, he was the one who dominated for so many years."

"You come to this tournament here and there could be several winners."

"Now you could have a dozen winners that could take the title. In those days you only had one, so that is what makes it so good."

"I am going to finish at the very top, there is nothing bigger than calling the final of the World Championship on the Ally Pally stage, to finish there will be pretty nice."

■LUKE Littler has been the story of the tournament with the 16-year-old shooting to fame.

WAYNE ROONEY - 16

England's Euro 2004 opener against France in Portugal shot him to international stardom before he signed for Manchester United later that summer, going on to become all-time top scorer for both United (253) and for England (53), though his international tally has since been surpassed by Harry Kane.

RONNIE O'SULLIVAN - 17

O'Sullivan became the youngest-ever winner of a ranking event when, aged 17, he beat Stephen Hendry to claim the 1993 UK Championship. Two years later he was victorious in the 1995 Masters to add another record to his CV by the age of 19, both accolades that he still holds.

CESC FABREGAS - 16

Fabregas became Arsenal's youngest-ever player when he made his first-team debut in a League Cup tie against Rotherham at Highbury in September 2003 and clocked another club record when he scored his first goal in the next round in a 5-1 win over Wolves.

He went on to win two league titles with Chelsea as well as the 2010 World Cup and two Euros with Spain.

GIANLUIGI DONNARUMMA - 16

AC Milan were in the midst of their decade-long barren spell when Donnarumma was thrust into the first team at the age of 16 in 2015, preferred to the club legend Christian Abbiati.

Standing at 6ft 5in, he took up the mantel of first-choice goalkeeper with a stature that defied his young years, and the following year became Italy's second-youngest keeper when he made his international debut against France. He has since helped the team to win Euro 2020 where he saved two pens in the shootout against England.

Gold Cup is dusted says Gerri owner

By DON FRANCOME

OWNER Brian Acheson believes Galopin Des Champs is the best horse since Kauto Star and has conceded his Gerri Colombe will be running for second place when he tackles Willie Mullins' defending champion in the Cheltenham Gold Cup.

Galopin Des Champs was an imperious winner of the blue riband in March but had since suffered defeat twice at the hands of Martin Brabbs's Fastorslow, with Acheson's Gerri Colombe emerging as a real Gold Cup contender when making a winning return at Down Royal.

The two talented stayers clashed for the first time at Leopardstown in the Savills Chase and with the Closutton Cheltenham hero back to his very best, Gerri Colombe was helpless as Galopin Des Champs romped to a brilliant 23-length success.

Rocket

That shot the eight-year-old back to the top of the Gold Cup market, with Gerri Colombe eased to a best price of 11-1 with Unibet, and Acheson – who runs his horses under the Robcour banner – feels there is no way of turning the tables when they meet again at Prestbury Park in March.

He said: "Galopin is the best horse since Kauto Star and I've said it since the day of the Turners (Novices') Chase, at Cheltenham".

"He is an absolute rocket, a weapon of a horse."

"We lost nothing in defeat and I don't think there is a horse in training that can stay with him, he's just a machine. It's as simple as that."

"You are running for second place when trying to take him on."

"In the era where we don't have enough good horses, if I didn't have Gerri in the race, then you would love him to win by half the track just to make him look a superstar – and he is a superstar, I would love to own him.

"We will take him on but there is only one winner."

Acheson also outlined plans for his plethora of stars in the staying hurdle division.

Bob Olinger and Irish Point have both thrown their names into the mix with victories over the Christmas period.

But it is last year's Stayers' Hurdle third Teahupoo who is currently carrying his owner's main hopes following his second impressive Hatton's Grace success last month.

"Bob Olinger will be going to Aintree," said Acheson.

"If you had three horses, would you run three horses in the Stayers' Hurdle?"

"At the moment, I have two horses who could run in the Stayers' and the one horse who is going there if he is fit and well is Teahupoo."

"Irish Point won well last week, but Home By The Lee didn't run his race and Asterion Forlonge was a great horse but is a little bit older now."

"Teahupoo's run against Impaire Et Passe was better form-wise, so he's number one, but this French horse (Theleme) is meant to be a real superstar."

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

WAR CAN WIN KEMPY BATTLE

ARTSOFWAR is expected to be all the rage at Kempton in the Try Our New Price Boost At Unibet Fillies' Novice Stakes for the red-hot Roger Varian.

The daughter of Dubawi eventually showed promise as a juvenile after being bought for £210,000 at a breeze-up sale back in April.

She made a belated racecourse debut at Newmarket in early November and was far from disgraced in fourth behind smart prospect Love Dynamite.

Having then been well backed to strike at Southwell, Arts Of War still looked something of a work in progress when plugging on for third.

However, the first two home that day did appear above-average all-weather runners and a step up in trip from seven furlongs to a mile can help Varian's filly make it third time lucky after a little more time to mature.

The action begins with the Try Unibet's New Acca Boosts Handicap and Laura's Breeze is backed to defy top-weight.

Ed Dunlop's filly had excuses for a couple of below-par efforts, finding Lingfield a touch sharp before using up too much energy pushing forward early on from a poor draw when upped in distance at Wolverhampton.

This daughter of Ribchester

By MIKE FRANCIS

had previously followed up a close second at this venue by securing a cosy Wolverhampton success and is worth sticking with now back down to seven furlongs.

Engineer appeared to catch a tartan when having to settle for second best behind impressive scorer Mukaaafah here in mid-November.

Clive Cox's charge had previously galloped on powerfully from a prominent position to prevail at Wolverhampton, despite still showing some signs of greenness.

The Showcasing colt has been given a seven-week break to strengthen up and will hopefully be more like the finished article for the Unibet Extra Place Offers Every Day Handicap.

Dropping

Former bumper winner Ocean Heights seems to be enjoying a stint on the level after not really taking to jumping hurdles and may be worth following in the Unibet Support Safe Gambling Handicap.

Following a couple of encouraging placed efforts here, he was always doing just enough when scoring by half a length from the consistent Way Of Life in an apprentice race over a mile and a half.

Dropping back down a furlong will not be an issue and a 4lb rise up the ratings is offset by Aiden Brooks being able to use his claim this time. McLean House claimed three victories at Kempton in 2023 and can kick off his four-year-old campaign with another strike in the Try Our New Price Boosts At Unibet Handicap.

After an early sighter at Southwell, Andrew Balding's charge kept on strongly to land a February maiden strike in the Try Our New Price Boosts At Unibet Handicap.

He again powered home when picking off main market rival Giant in a novice event the following month before spending over eight months on the sidelines. The son of Dream Ahead looked in need of his November reappearance when fifth at Wolverhampton but was soon back on song, outbattling eight-time all-weather winner Soar Above at this venue.

McLean House, who hails from the same family as star performers such as Warning and Commander In Chief, travelled well throughout that contest and is built to carry on improving with age, while his style of racing makes a wide draw less of a worry.

Wazza out after just 12 weeks

BIRMINGHAM GIVE ROONEY THE BULLET AFTER SLUMPING TO 20TH

WAYNE Rooney has been sacked as manager of Championship club Birmingham.

The former Manchester United and England striker has overseen just two wins in 15 games following his controversial appointment at St Andrew's in October.

Supporters called for Rooney's removal as the side slumped to a 3-0 defeat at Leeds on New Year's Day.

The result left the club 20th in the table having been sixth when Rooney took charge.

A club statement read: "Birmingham City has today parted company with manager Wayne Rooney and first-team coach Carl Robinson."

"Despite their best efforts, results have not met the expectations that were made clear at the outset. Therefore, the board feels that a change in management is in the best interests of the football club."

Chief executive Garry Cook said: "We are committed to doing what is necessary to bring success to St Andrew's."

"Unfortunately, Wayne's

By ANDY MILLOM

time with us did not go as planned and we have decided to move in a different direction.

"The search for a successor begins with immediate effect and we will update supporters when we have further news."

Blues' new ownership group brought in Rooney at the expense of popular former boss John Eustace, who had lifted the club from relegation trouble during a 15-month spell.

The change in thinking had come after the takeover by a company owned by American businessman Tom Wagner was completed last summer.

Rooney said he did not feel he was given long enough by the club.

"Football is a results business – and I recognise they have not been at the level I wanted them to be," read a statement.

"However, time is the most precious commodity a manager requires and I do not believe 13 weeks was sufficient to oversee the changes that were needed."

"Personally, it will take me some time to get over this setback. I have been involved in professional football, as either a player or manager, since I was 16.

GONE:
Robinson

"Now, I plan to take some time with my family as I prepare for the next opportunity in my journey as a manager."

So how is Wazza shaping up as a manager?

DERBY

Rooney moved from his playing role at Derby into the manager's seat, initially sharing the job with Liam Rosenior, Shay Given and Justin Walker before taking sole charge. They were bottom of the Championship at the time but climbed to 18th, eight points clear of the relegation zone, before a late-season slump saw them survive by just a point.

Their relegation the following season came after a total of 21 points were deducted – 12 for entering administration and nine for historical financial breaches.

They rallied with three successive wins in December 2021 and 10 in their final 25 games of the season and without the deductions would have finished 17th on 55 points.

He won 24, drew 22 and lost 39 of his 85 games as manager, including those with the managerial group in charge, for a 28.2 per cent win rate.

DC UNITED

That win percentage dipped to 25.9 with DC United as Rooney was unable to make his mark as a coach in Major League Soccer.

His side were eliminated from play-off contention in the 2023 season despite the win over New York City on October 8 that marked the end of Rooney's reign.

Rooney's

agreed" departure came with him having been boss for the whole of that season and the last 15 of the 2022 campaign.

His final record in all competitions, including two games in the US Open Cup and three in the Leagues Cup, read won 14, drew 14, lost 26.

BIRMINGHAM

Rooney was appointed as boss of Birmingham – who were taken over by United States-based Shelby Companies Limited in July and had seven-time Super Bowl champion Tom Brady become a minority owner the following month – two days on from the sacking of John Eustace while lying sixth in the Championship table.

He spoke of the goal of promotion, but defeat in his first match, 1-0 at Middlesbrough, set the tone and another 14 games later he departs with the team languishing in 20th place.

Birmingham registered victories in only two of Rooney's 15 matches, with nine losses, for a win percentage of 13.3.

That gives him an overall managerial record of 40 wins from 154 games (26 per cent), with 40 draws and 74 defeats.

LIVERPOOL KICK OFF 2024 LOOKING SALAH: WE CAN WIN IT!

Egyptian ace believes he can claim his second Premier League crown

MOHAMED Salah believes Liverpool can win the Premier League after his inspirational display fired the Reds to a crucial yet hard-fought win over Newcastle.

Salah recovered from a first-half penalty miss to score twice and set up another as Jurgen Klopp's side won a New Year's Day thriller 4-2 at Anfield to move three points clear at the top.

It was his final game before joining up with Egypt ahead of the upcoming African Cup of Nations.

Salah said: "It's a great result for us. The game was very intense and we managed to pick up three points and now we are top of the table. We need to stay calm and win every game."

Asked about his side's title chances, he added: "We believe a lot.

By PAUL THOMAS

We need to work hard and express ourselves on the field. If we manage to do that and work hard then we can keep winning."

Salah was pleased not to be signing off from club duty on a low note after seeing a spot-kick – the first of two he had during the game – beaten away by impressive Newcastle goalkeeper Martin Dubravka.

Cancelled

He said: "I missed the pen – I didn't want to leave with national team with that performance."

"The first one I was confused because the goalkeeper moved, but the second one I did like I did in training."

Salah opened the scoring with a tap-in early in the second half. That effort was quickly cancelled out by Alexander Isak, but Liverpool took control through Curtis Jones and Cody Gakpo.

Sven Botman pulled another back, but Salah wrapped up the win the hosts – who racked up 34 shots – deserved after a foul by Dubravka on Diogo Jota.

Liverpool manager Jurgen Klopp said: "Nobody should be really surprised that Mo can change a game."

"The more goals you have, the more you are used to missing chances and understand what you have to do to keep going and improving, and that was what Mo did."

"It was a super game from start to finish, super high intensity. I loved so many aspects of the game except the goals we conceded."

"It was an unbelievable game with and unbelievable atmosphere."

Newcastle boss Eddie Howe admitted his side were fortunate to get in goalless at half-time, but he had issues with both spot-kicks given against them.

"I'm still confused over the penalties we conceded. The second one especially didn't look like a penalty," he said.

"There are two ways to look at it: the challenge on Sean Longstaff (in the second half) was a pen for me and that changes the game massively and then they go up the other end and it wasn't (a penalty)."

Performance

Fifth defeat in six league matches, and one win in 12 away games, has left Newcastle struggling to stay in reach of the top four.

"We have to do everything we can to protect that confidence so that is why I think we need not to over dramatise things," Howe added.

"It was a really good performance from Liverpool, they made it very difficult for us – we did well to come in 0-0.

"Take away the penalty moments, the goals we conceded were disappointing."

Newcastle now face another real potential banana skin as they face Sunderland in the third round of the FA Cup.

With the Toon in the middle of a bad run, many think the club's head of psychology Dr Ian Mitchell should be brought in to talk to the players.

He arrived at St James's Park in October – just as the bad run started.

Howe said: "The players are human beings naturally we are not at our most confident levels currently."

"I think we have to do everything we can to protect that confidence because it's such an important thing whenever you play. That's why I have said before we need to be, not overreactive, not overdramatise things currently.

"We have a huge game to come in the next few days and I think all of our energy and resources need to go into that."

Howe dismissed suggestions of any lack of confidence in the season as a whole, he said: "I don't think so. Maybe in the last few games yes."

"But if you look at the season as a whole, we have had some brilliant performances this year. If we are going to go into that then I have to talk about the players that aren't here."

"You go into any team in the Premier League and take half of their team away you are going to notice that over a long period of time and over a month where you are playing every three days."

Sarr ready to stay at Spurs for six years

TOTTENHAM midfielder Pape Sarr is poised to extend his contract with the club until 2030.

The 21-year-old Senegal international has made 33 appearances for Spurs in all competitions since signing from French club Metz in 2021.

He claimed his second goal for the Premier League side during Sunday's 3-1 win over Bournemouth before leaving the field in tears due to a hamstring problem.

That injury had cast doubt on his participation in the upcoming Africa Cup of Nations in the Ivory Coast, which Senegal begin against Gambia on January 15, but following the match Sarr expressed a confidence that he will be fine to compete in the tournament.

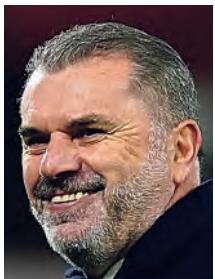

After completing his transfer to north London in the summer of 2021, Sarr was initially loaned back to Metz for the following campaign.

He has excelled this term and established himself as one of Ange Postecoglou's key men, starting 16 of Tottenham's 20 top-flight league games.

His maiden goal in English football came in Spurs' 2-0 victory over Manchester United in August.

Fulham captain Tom Cairney has signed a new contract to stay at Craven Cottage until the summer of 2025.

Cairney, 32, has made 304 appearances since joining the Premier League club from Blackburn in June 2015.

"It means everything to me to extend my contract. 10 years is a hell of a long time in football, a very rare thing," Cairney told the official club website.

"I said from quite early on that Fulham feels like home – a lot of players say that and then move on, but I feel like it's obvious that I meant it as I'll still be here 10 years later."

"I just want to thank everyone for the support over the years – the Fulham fans have been incredible with me, and I'll just look to keep repaying them."

Fulham owner Tony Khan said: "I don't think that the importance of Tom Cairney joining Fulham in 2015 can be underestimated in terms of our recent history.

"He has been a great signing for the club whose contribution over the years has led to so many memorable successes on the pitch."

NO TITLE TALK FROM VIRGIL

LIVERPOOL captain Virgil Van Dijk is refusing to talk about the title despite the Reds sitting on top of the table.

The Dutchman said: "I'm not going to speak about any of this. I never did and I won't do it now either. It's far too early to do that. We are at the start of January, we have players leaving now, we have players coming back from injury so let's see what it brings."

"If in February/March we are still up there, obviously we have to get the last push going and see if we can squeeze it out, but for now we just focus on the game ahead, don't look at others and try to improve ourselves."

"That's always been the experience and it brought us one success over the last six years to win the Premier League and hopefully we will see what happens at the end of the season."

Arsenal told to shell out £80m for Brentford hitman this month

By JOHN ANTHONY

ARSENAL face a struggle to sign Ivan Toney this month.

The Brentford striker returns from his gambling ban and the Gunners see him as the man to fire them to the Premier League title.

Reports suggest the Bees want as much as £80m for the England hitman with Chelsea also thought to be in the running.

Not only would that stretch finances at the Emirates Stadium – but it could also see them in trouble with the Financial Fair Play rules.

Toney, 27, has an impressive scoring record since moving into the top flight.

He has fired in 32 goals from 66 matches on top of 31 in 45 Championship appearances. Despite missing the last eight months with his Football Association ban, those figures make Toney hot property.

Arsenal's lack of an out-and-out striker has proved costly in recent games and they face dropping out of the Premier League title race.

They lost 2-0 to West Ham despite having a record 77 touches in the Hammers' penalty area.

Brentford boss Thomas Frank has made his feelings clear. He said: "Am I desperate to keep him? Desperate is a big word."

"I'd really, really like to keep him. I'm a head coach. I'd love to have my best players with me all the time. So from my perspective, I don't want to sell him. That's me, because he is fantastic."

"Last year three players scored more than 20 goals in the Premier League and he was one of them."
